

Dorothy Lloyd Griffiths

FEARLESS
FRED'S
Big Seaside Adventure

Illustrated by Dorothy Lloyd Griffiths

FEARLESS
FRED'S
Big Seaside Adventure

Written & illustrated by
Dorothy Lloyd Griffiths

My name is Fred. I'm just a puppy, six months old.

They call me Fearless Fred because I helped save the Queen's jewels and made the Big Bad Fox run away.

I am a Border Terrier. My coat is brownish and I have lots of bushy whiskers round my nose and eyes. Food does get in my whiskers when I eat but I clean them with my paws.

I do like to have an Adventure.

My family are very busy painting our house and they have told me that today I am to go to the seaside with my cousins Deven and Dexter for a day trip.

They think I will be in the way and get paint all over my fur. I think that is silly.

I'm sure I could help with the painting but I'm only going for the day so I won't be too sad.

We are going to visit Uncle Drew and Aunty Lynn who have a Beach Hut at the seaside.

I'm taking my little case with me which is full of my toys and bones. I always take Bear and Mouse with me as they are my best friends. Deven and Dexter helped me pack the case with my toys and bones.

They don't have a dog of their own so they are very happy to look after me.

Then we went in Uncle Drew's big car to the Beach Hut which is by the sea.

Uncle Drew's Beach Hut is made of wood, painted with red and white stripes with a little window and a nice front door.

If it rains you can put everything inside so that they don't get wet.

The Beach Hut is in a row of huts all painted in bright colours. It has a little step leading to the door and inside there is a table and chairs and my own basket.

The hut next door is painted with blue and white stripes. The other Beach Huts are painted in different colours. Some are green, some yellow and some orange.